

COPYRIGHT, DEFAMATION, AND TRADEMARK COMPLAINTS

Your Legal Rights

As a responsible marketing firm, we care about the protection and reputation of your intellectual property rights. Our procedure for content that comprises said rights is to take down or disable once we are notified. Please contact us about any content you feel defames you or constitutes copyright or trademark infringement. Please note that providing false or misleading information may result in a delay of content removal and could result in civil or criminal liability.

Procedures for Defamation, Copyright, & Trademark Claims

Please follow the below procedure if you feel you've been subject to defamation, copyright and/or trademark infringement. Include the below information when contacting us.

- Your contact information such as name, mailing address, telephone number, email address, and occupation.
- Identify the content and its location on our site that you believe to be an infringement. If a copyright or trademark, please send identifying information so that we may review said registrations.
- A statement that explains why the content is an infringement of your rights.

If you have any further questions about how to proceed with a defamation, copyright, and trademark claim or what we classify as your legal rights, please contact us.

Last Updated: June 2019